

Message From Bill Ayling, Co-Founder of The Creative Space Bioresonance Program

How many times have you been to a workshop, completed a course or enjoyed a consultation and left inspired, with absolute clarity and certainty? Then life happens. The new information becomes obscured by the demands of a world, which doesn't seem to have been on the same course as you. While you do not lose all the new information, it takes discipline to hold the frequency so readily available in the rarefied environment of the teachings and like-minded beings.

Like all great teachers, Suzy's offerings extend far beyond her words, and the energetic imprint from each session will raise the frequency of all participants at both the conscious and unconscious levels. The Creative Space Program uses bio-resonance technology to capture and hold the frequency of Suzy's teachings, building a collective consciousness that will support all of those engaged in the work. While recordings can be replayed to access the conscious information, the Bio-resonance Program holds the energetic information, which can be accessed by all participants, assisting them in holding the higher vibrational frequencies accessed in each session.

As Suzy moves through this series, the Program will be run daily to support the collective consciousness for The Journey Back to Love, changing in context each week to remain aligned with the emerging content. At this collective level, The Creative Space Programme will act as a frequency holder, which participants can use as a reference point. There is nothing that you consciously have to do to receive this support. It will simply be there as a powerful container for your process.

For those wishing to receive individual daily balancing throughout this series, there is a special rate available. Usually priced at £100 per month, we offer participants this service for £60 per month. Contact Bill at mail@acreativespace.org for a free 30-minute discussion to discuss how The Creative Space Program can support you on this journey!
